

William took my SAT course last year. At the start of the program, I asked him for his goal school so that we could determine the SAT score he would need for entry. He replied: The United States Military Academy West Point, United States Merchant Marine Academy, and United States Air Force Academy. I had never heard that response before! Such a lofty goal took me by surprise. I sincerely appreciated his desire and conviction and so was determined to do what I could to help. Throughout our SAT course, he remained as steadfast as a heat-seeking missile, always asking me what more he could do to get his scores where they needed to be for all the service academies. He followed through by doing what I recommended. I guess I shouldn't have been surprised when several months later I received an email from William: Good morning Doctor Pace, I just wanted to say thank you for all your help in preparing for my SAT. I was able to receive an appointment to the United States Military Academy, United States Air Force Academy, and United States Merchant Marine Academy. I will officially be attending the Air Force Academy this summer.

All I could think was, Wow! Same response welled up in me when I read his mother's writeup, Wow!

God bless this young man William K and keep him safe,
Dr. Pace

William K., Archbishop Ryan

From a very young age Billy has had a passion for history and for our country, and he possessed the most profound spirit of patriotism I've ever seen in someone so young. From his freshman year at Archbishop Ryan he began building his academic, athletic, and leadership resume, spending countless hours perfecting his standing in each of these areas: starting his own club which he presided over for 2 years, being voted in as president of the Ryan Ambassadors, being a member of the Rho Kappa Honor Society and the Health Care Academy, and being a Sacristan, all while maintaining 1st honors. In sports Billy was chosen as captain of the golf team, and while playing basketball and baseball his commitments never wavered no matter the challenge. His goal was simply to be a good candidate for the service academies, to be able to apply to all the service academies and to be competitive. The application process is not for the faint of heart. It's a 1.5 year process requiring many recommendations, outstanding leadership qualities, excellence in academics, many interviews all over the state, physicals, athleticism, and a congressional nomination. All of Billy's hard work came to fruition this past month when he was appointed to the United States Military Academy West Point, the United States Merchant Marine Academy, and the United States Air Force Academy. He has accepted his appointment to the United States Air Force Academy and began his journey to a Commissioned Officer in the Air Force June of 2024. To say that my husband and I are proud of Billy is an absolute understatement.

Chijioke is going to Penn State Schreyer Honors College to study biology and will then go to medical school, by the grace of God.

We would like to give a huge amount of thanks and appreciation to Dr. Pace for all the time and dedication she has put into helping our son Chijioke grow. We first began working with Dr. Pace to help him prepare for the HSPT and continued through to the SAT as Chijioke thrived under her tutelage. Due to this guidance, Chijioke was able to build proper study and test taking habits which built the foundation upon which he received his achievements. Gaining acceptance into the Schreyers Honors College, known for its extremely low acceptance rate, receiving attendance into the National Honor Society, and being an AP scholar with distinction, all while being the chairman of the leadership council and the president of BSHS, is testimony to benefits acquired through our time spent with Dr. Pace. A simple thank you could never sum up the well of gratitude we have for you.

Thank you, Dr. Pace, for all you do!

Mr. and Mrs. Okafor

*Chijioke Okafor
Bishop Shanahan High School*

Chijioke's academic excellence is evident in the impressive list of his college acceptances and scholarships and in his superior SAT scores, to which I have been privy. Humble and soft-spoken, Chijioke is a quiet force worthy of much respect in academic settings, to which I have also been privy. I began teaching Chijioke pre-Covid, so I had the opportunity to meet this remarkable young man in person, along with his parents and his siblings. During the start of Covid, when schools closed and many people stayed at home, Chijioke and his mother attended my online Art Retreat, and then his entire family took part in my online Ignatian Imaginative Prayer session. I am blessed to say that in the years that followed, Chijioke and his siblings enrolled in many of my online academic programs. As a result of this array of shared experiences, I have come to know the entire Okafor family better than I know most of the families with whom I have worked. Honored by their graceful presence in my life, I will borrow the last sentence of Mrs. Okafor's writeup for Chijioke to express my appreciation: A simple thank you could never sum up the well of gratitude I have for your entire family.

You are all in my heart forever,
Dr. Pace
