

GIFTED AND GOOD: LEARN FROM THIS STUDENT!

SPOTLIGHT: Rachel Thomas's exceptional test score reveals that she is gifted. Natural ability is essential to achieving excellence, but it is not enough. Other ingredients, including actions, are needed.

Rachel's serious interest in learning has been evident in her active engagement in the learning process, her openness to it, her humility toward it, and her respect for it. Furthermore, Rachel completed all her assignments and then would ask me what she could do to improve her performance in areas that would benefit from more attention. She then found the time, in her very busy schedule, to study the extra pages and solve the problems that I had assigned to address her specific needs.

Lastly, having a supportive environment—one that nurtures budding gifts, providing opportunities for them to blossom into fullness—is key to reaching excellence. In this regard, Rachel's family is among the best I have been privileged to know.

I am honored to have taught this remarkable young woman, who I am sure will become a physician of worth.

PADUA ACADEMY

"The first time I met Dr. Pace was when I took her HSPT prep course in 8th grade. Her teaching style, techniques, and confidence in her students is what helped me succeed on my HSPT exam. With the SATs approaching, I knew that her SAT prep course was a must. Dr. Pace's SAT prep course taught me important test-taking techniques that formed a great foundation to prepare me for my test. I felt confident as a student in her class, and she always made sure that each student understood the vital concepts that she was teaching.

My SAT score is in the 99th percentile, allowing me to apply to highly selective schools. With my score, I can feel confident applying to BS/MD programs so that I can achieve my goal of becoming a physician. Being in the medical field is something that is important to me because it will allow me to help others while also learning more about science, a subject that I am passionate about. Dr. Pace's loving care for her students in and out of the classroom is something that I would like to carry with me into my career when I am helping my patients. I am forever grateful for her and her classes that I have taken over the years. They have helped me earn scholarships, succeed academically, and strengthen my college applications. Thank you, Dr. Pace!"
