

ODINA ACHIKE: FROM ST. CECILIA SCHOOL TO PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

Being privy to the minds of young students as they begin to understand concepts in mathematics and language, while witnessing their confidence spill over into enthusiasm for learning, has been one of the greatest privileges of my life. Moreover, through my work with students, I have come to know many mothers and fathers whose selflessness is for me a humbling experience.

Perfect examples are Odina, a student from my neighborhood, and her mother Nkechi. They entered my life when Odina was preparing for high school entrance tests. She had a delightful smile that gave the impression of introspection. Nkechi, a hardworking woman who steadfastly focused on her daughter's education, would often speak with me after class while Odina gracefully twirled around the room with a happily wistful smile on her face. Then, before graduating grade school, Odina began taking my SAT courses, certainly earlier than most students. When her in-class SAT scores started increasing exponentially, I recognized in this very pleasant young girl a deep intellect. Thankfully, Princeton has also recognized Odina's gifts, which I trust she will use to help our world become a better place. God bless you always, Odina! You are a delight and a gift to the world!

In gratitude to God for my students and their parents, and for guiding me to such meaningful and fulfilling work,
Dr. Pace

Odina

Odina Achike has recently graduated from Westtown School in June 2024 and will be attending Princeton University this fall. She hopes to study Computer Science.

"I remember meeting Dr. Pace for the first time. I had switched to a new school in the Archdiocese of Philadelphia - St. Cecilia School, and I needed to get accustomed to the different exams like the HSPT and the TerraNova. Dr. Pace is really funny, and kept me engaged with her teachings, while also imparting crucial knowledge and strategies. I enjoyed asking Dr. Pace questions and going over my progress with her. I still carry her strategies with me (especially about looking at the questions before reading the passage in reading sections, it saves me so much time)" -Odina.

Armed with Dr. Pace's strategies, Odina worked hard to earn a great score on the SSAT and attend Westtown School, an independent school in West Chester. Odina studied hard, receiving many awards for multiple subjects, including being one of the recipients of the 2024 Westtown School Most Distinguished Scholar Award. She spent her time progressing in math and science courses, while also participating on the school's robotics team, string orchestra, and cooking club. Odina continued to work with Dr. Pace for the SAT exam and applied to colleges that would serve to further her interests in computer science and music. Odina is thankful for the instruction and advice received from Dr. Pace, and she is excited for what's to come! The Achike family will always treasure your kindness and support.

- NKECHI ACHIKE (ODINA'S MOM)
